Personal Chauffeurs Let You Ride In Style

By Steve Tobia

When it comes to the hectic and congested freeways of Southern California, whether it's getting to LAX for a family vacation or business trip or even a social event anywhere in the Region, I always call Sue Lynch and her team at Oakmont Executive Transportation.

Sue and her team specialize in individual executive transportation planning that is simple, comfortable, efficient and hassle free. I always know that the chauffeurs and drivers are reliable, professional, experienced and communicate clearly so that I don't end up at the wrong place or airport!

PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT & SERVICE

Sue and her team organized the transportation shuttles for THE Magazine's recent ESTATES TOUR from La Canada to Glendora that benefited the local American Cross. As the transportation sponsor, Sue took care of every detail from the moment I called her. She had the routes mapped out, the time and distance between each location, the appropriate size shuttle, and her drivers were attentive, goodwill ambassadors throughout the day. For me, when I utilize a professional service such as executive travel, I want to make sure the staff are as professional, courteous and detailed as management.

When planning a wedding, it can seem like there are a million and one tiny details to take care of. You have the venue, the attire, the food, the cake, the photographer, and the DJ, but what about transportation for the happy couple or their guests who have come in from out-of-town? Often transportation can be left to the final stages of the planning process, but it is one of the most vital aspects of the big day. Oakmont Executive Transportation, a premier executive and leisure ground transportation company for all of Los Angeles, offers a wide array of services for not only the day of the wedding, but the week of as well.

Some brides like to schedule a spa day for her and her bridesmaids the week of the wedding. Start the day with some mimosas and a delicious brunch, and Oakmont can arrange a chauffeur to take the bridal party anywhere they need to go for the ultimate day of relaxation.

Couples with guests coming in from out-of-town can schedule airport transportation to and from the airport and hotel through Oakmont. Shuttle or van service can also be arranged for the day of the wedding to ensure that all guests are taken care of.

The final and most important component of transportation for every couple's big day is their own chauffeur. Not only does it set the tone of excitement for the guests to see the bride and groom pull up to their venue in their limo or town car, but that trip from the wedding venue to the reception can also serve as a small escape for the happy couple to enjoy and reflect on everything that got them to where they are that moment. DON'T DRINK & DRIVE. PERSONAL DRIVERS.

Going out for a dinner and having some wine and cocktails shouldn't be stressful. Many of my friends call Sue for a "personal driver" who comes to their homes to drive their personal cars to restaurants and parties. Of course, a town car or limousine is also available but some people like being in their own cars with a professional designated drive.
